Class Texts to support Reading Timetable

Children should have regular access to the core reading text during reading lessons. Ideally, every child should have their own copy, although a minimum of one book between two pupils is expected. Please plan ahead by reviewing the trust-wide text overview and contacting colleagues across the trust to identify whether class sets are available in other schools. Before requesting additional copies, also check existing stock within school. If sufficient copies cannot be sourced, please speak to the school office as early as possible to arrange the purchase of a class set. In many cases, World of Books offers the most cost-effective option for purchasing multiple copies, although other suppliers may also be considered depending on availability and delivery times. Having texts in place before the start of each term is essential to ensure high-quality whole-class reading, repeated reading and effective book discussion throughout the unit.
